WHAT IS BADMOON

Solid cologne balm that smells like $100+ designer fragrances for under $6 to make. Applied neuroscience you can wear — OneBrain's scent division. Every product is backed by fragrance psychology research and designed to influence trust, attraction, and perception.

PHASE 0: PROOF OF CONCEPT (Now — Oct 2026)

Status: IN PROGRESS

What's done: - [x] Core formula: cedarwood + spearmint in Vaseline base (2% dilution) - [x] Supplies ordered (C$28.06 via DoorDash) - [x] 3 sample containers (mini pill boxes) - [x] Fragrance psychology research paper (5,500 words, 30+ citations) - [x] Scent influence research (deal-closing scents, trust, authority) - [x] Canadian compliance research (Health Canada, labelling, BC licensing) - [x] Cost calculator built - [x] Prior validation: Alice thought DIY scent was designer ($2 vs $100+)

Tomorrow (Oct 10): - [ ] Mix first batch (30 drops cedarwood + 10 drops spearmint in Vaseline, stir 2 min, rest 24h) - [ ] Load 3 samples into pill boxes - [ ] Label: "Petroleum jelly, cedarwood oil, spearmint oil. Patch test first." - [ ] Deploy to 3 coworkers (carriers)

Feedback to collect: - Does the scent last? - Too strong or too subtle? - Would you buy it? - How much would you pay? - Did anyone ask what you're wearing?

PHASE 2: FIRST SALES (Dec 2026 — Feb 2027)

Channel: Direct — coworkers, word of mouth, local

Pricing (bigger = better deal per gram): | Size | Price | COGS (incl tin + label) | Profit | Per gram | |---|---|---|---|---| | Trial 10g tin | $4.98 | ~$1.20 | $3.78 | $0.50/g | | Standard 30g tin | $12.98 | ~$2.60 | $10.38 | $0.43/g (14% savings) | | Full 50g tin | $18.98 | ~$3.80 | $15.18 | $0.38/g (24% savings) |

COGS breakdown per unit: | Component | 10g | 30g | 50g | |---|---|---|---| | Balm ingredients | $0.60 | $1.80 | $2.80 | | Tin (AliExpress bulk) | $0.15 | $0.35 | $0.50 | | Label (printed sticker) | $0.20 | $0.20 | $0.25 | | Misc (shrink wrap, etc.) | $0.25 | $0.25 | $0.25 | | Total COGS | $1.20 | $2.60 | $3.80 |

Upgraded base formula (from research): - Beeswax 20% + Jojoba oil 65% + Fragrance oils 15% - Better scent throw, premium feel, "clean beauty" positioning - Cost per 30g jar: ~$3-4

Revenue target: 10 units/week × $10 avg (mix of sizes) = $100/week = $400/month

Marketing cost: $0 - Carriers wear it, people ask - Bully Billboard Principle operates passively - Word of mouth from kitchen → coworkers' families → community

THE ONEBRAIN CONNECTION

BadMoon is not just cologne. It's applied sensory influence research.

OneBrain Division	Sense	Method	Application
Frequency Engine	Sound	Brainwave entrainment, sub-threshold audio	Focus, sleep, behavioral influence
BadMoon	Smell	Scent psychology, olfactory influence	Trust, attraction, authority, spending

Key research findings applied: - Lavender increases trust (Leiden University, $p<0.05$) - Cedar conveys reliability and competence - Simple scents outperform complex ones for behavioral influence (Washington State, N=400+) - Scent bypasses conscious thought → limbic system → decision-making - Same neural pathway as sub-threshold frequencies

The boardroom play: Wear BadMoon's trust blend to a meeting. The person across the table subconsciously trusts you more. Same thesis as ambient frequency design — influence through the senses, below conscious awareness.

SOCIAL ARCHITECTURE

BadMoon doesn't advertise. It deploys carriers.

Principles: 1. Free samples aren't tests — they're deployments 2. The product IS the marketing 3. The Bully Billboard Principle — critics advertise for free 4. Every person who wears it walks through their day advertising to everyone they meet 5. No Shopify store needed when 3 coworkers generate word of mouth

First carriers deploy: October 10, 2026
